A Note to Readers

Chapter 1 by Story Wars

{Note} This isn't a story, it's a note I'm sharing with readers

Most people these days don't think about or even actually read books or stories anymore. They might look through the pages of a book, artical, novels, etc. But peso olé don't honestly REALLY read things anymore to either learn or just to have fun. People these days go to the Internet for information but most don't know that there will always be a chance that someone changed information or something to make it either totally not true or partially.

Also on another note, just to mention that not only do your eyesight gets worse and that's why most elders need glasses because they spent most of their time on technology when it first came out. It also causes a nuclear substance that spreads chemicals into the air or other ways like through phones, eyes, etc.

Now I know that this is just a minor thought i have and it's like being a little fish in a huge ocean of the Internet and that my thought could be overpowered by a long shot but I just hope people think for once and actually read things instead of always being on the Internet.
